

Born from the stars, platinum is one of the rarest metals to exist on this planet. Platinum's intrinsic rarity and strength lends itself to exceptional and one-of-a-kind jewellery pieces – akin to the women of today. Inspired by these modern and progressive women and their unique journeys, Platinum EVARA by PGI India has launched a new collection that celebrates today's woman, the spirit of joy, and the excitement for tomorrows. Crafted from 95% pure platinum each piece is embedded with meaning and forms an integral part of every woman's unique story of finally coming into her own. Dreamlike patterns, mobius loops, and grooves reflect a unique design narrative and resonate with women who aren't defined by the world around them but instead by the world they carry within.